Pattern grading, most simply put, is the proportional increase, or decrease in the size of a pattern. The purpose of grading is to fit a range of body types and sizes from one base pattern style. Each pattern piece is methodically increased or decreased to create a new size, while keeping the same intended fit, shaping, and proportion of the original base pattern. Pattern grading should not be confused with pattern alterations.

Grading a pattern and altering a pattern are two very different things. When you grade a pattern, you are creating the same style in another size - EVERY measurement point is changed, following a strict formula, to maintain the same fit and proportion in each new size. When you alter a pattern, you change only some parts of the pattern.
