Most of the hydrocarbons in crude oil are hydrocarbons called alkanes. The general formula for the homologous series of alkanes is  $C_nH_{2n+2}$ . The first four members of the alkanes are methane, ethane, propane and butane.

Answer: (a) Alkenes contain two hydrogen atoms less than alkanes and thus they contain C–C double bond (C=C) in their molecule. Thus they are called unsaturated hydrocarbons. Thus they are called unsaturated hydrocarbons.

Hydrocarbons are organic compounds that contain only carbon and hydrogen. The four general classes of hydrocarbons are: alkanes, alkenes, alkynes and arenes. Aromatic compounds derive their names from the fact that many of these compounds in the early days of discovery were grouped because they were oils with fragrant odors.

chemistry. There is no industry that does not depend upon chemical substances: petroleum, pharmaceuticals, garment, aircraft, steel, electronics, agriculture, etc. This book helps everyone to understand nature. However, one does not need to be a chemist or scientist to understand the simplicity within the complexity around us. The aim was to write a modern, up-to-date book where students and teachers can get concise information about the structure of substances. Sometimes reactions are given in the detailed form, but, in all, excessive detail has been omitted. The book is designed to introduce basic knowledge about chemical bonds. Chemists work every day to produce new compounds to make our lives easier with the help of this basic knowledge. In the design, emphasis has been placed upon making the book student-friendly. Throughout the books, colorful tables, important reactions, funny cartoons, interesting extras, and reading passages are used to help explain ideas. This book will also show you how chemical bonds are useful to us in everyday life. We hope, after studying this book, you will
