Darwin realized that his theory could have no principled exception for humans. He put the famous teaser, "Light will be thrown on the origin of man and his history," near the end of The Origin of Species. If his evolutionary account made an exception for the human species, the whole edifice might be questioned.

Darwins Theory of Evolution - YouTube Darwin's theory of evolution by natural selection can be summed up as follows: More offspring are produced than can survive to reproduce. There is competition for limited resources, or a struggle for existence. Individuals exhibit variation in their traits and some of these differences can be passed on to their offspring.
