I was delighted to read John Bayley's excellent review of recent Polish writing entitled "In God's Playground" [NYR, July 19] and to see that the label of "God's Playground" is now regarded as an original name for "the old Respublica in its heyday.". I cannot think of a nicer fate for a phrase which I invented myself in 1979 as the subtitle of my history of Poland (God's Playground: A History of Poland, Columbia University Press).

Although there are some similarities in the workmanship and symbols, the woodcarver is, in fact, a Japanese man named Nuburi Toko.
