The Philosopher is the father of the Monk. I think the Dad is asking questions to his son and trying to understand the son's thinking. The Philosopher is an academic from a university setting and the Monk is sitting on a bed bug infested cot in a cave up in the mountains meditating for 14 hours a day. They are radically different in every way possible.

One of these two men, Jean-François Revel (an assumed name), ranks as one of France's leading philosophers. Now 75 years old, he enjoys a reputation as a hardheaded secular thinker, a rationalist who trusts reason alone to understand reality. His son, Matthieu Ricard, has been a Tibetan Buddhist monk for the last thirty years.
