A tone of an essay is the way it sounds to a reader in general. In most cases, the tone depends on the purpose of your paper; for example, if you criticize something, your tone could be ironic, blaming, or sarcastic. So, whereas words convey meaning, the tone you choose conveys your attitude towards the subject you are writing about.

Tones in Writing | AcademicHelp.net

A formal writing style is generally impersonal and objective. An informal style tends to be subjective and personal, causal and plainspoken. If the subject matter is academic or somber, a serious and formal tone is appropriate. If the essay topic is celebratory, a festive, joyous and informal tone is more suitable.

How to Determine the Tone of an Essay | The Classroom

The audience and intentions of a research paper decide the tone. If your essay is going to be printed in a scholarly or didactic publication or reviewed by a college professor, a formal and succinct tone is best. Writing for a more leisurely and laid back audience calls for a more casual and conversational tone.
