use a recent
modification of R. L.
Moore's famous method
developed in recent years by D. W. Cohen [1]. Briefly, in this new approach, projects are assigned to groups of students each week.
With all the necessary
assistance from the instructor, the groups
complete their projects, carefully write a short presentation. The subject matter of set theory is peculiarly appropriate to this style of course. For much of the book the objects of study are familiar and while the theorems are significant and often deep, it is the methods and ideas that are most important. The necessity of reasoning about numbers and sets forces students to come to grips with the nature of proof, logic, and mathematics. In their research they experience the same dilemmas and uncertainties that faced the pio neers.
