From international bestselling author, Lexy Timms, comes a forbidden romance that'll set your heart racing. When Tony Rivers left New York three years ago, he left behind two things. One was the off-Broadway musical he'd made a success through his choreography. The second was a piece of his heart. Fed up with Allison's secrets and cover-ups, he left her and The Big Apple. He's now established on the Hollywood television scene as a dance coach and choreographer, though he aspires to direct. When he's offered a plum position as director on a hot new series, a television mini based on the musical he worked so hard on, he has second thoughts. The price of admission—working with his old nemesis, Blake Smithson, who's the scriptwriter. What blows Tony away is that Blake's living with Allison. Allison never expected to see Tony Rivers again after her father dragged her away from college and forbade her to see Tony. When he arrived in New York four years later, he reawakened all the feelings she had for him. But she was married then, if only in name. Regardless, she fell into an affair with Tony, but refused to divorce her husband when Tony asked her to marry him. Though heartbroken when Tony left New York, Allison pulled her life together and built a career producing theater productions. Between that and raising her two-year old son, she has a full life. When Tony walks through her door once more three years later, she's torn between hating and loving him. The one thing she does not want is to expose her son to the man who abandoned her, even if that child is Tony's own son. Can Tony and Allison untangle the hurts of the past to build a new future? Or will the challenges of their present lives cause their love to die forever? LOVE YOU SERIES: Love Life Need You My Love

Drawing on previously untapped archival materials including letters, interviews, and more, Bernard F. Dick traces the history of Columbia Pictures, from its beginnings as the CBC Film Sales Company, through the regimes of Harry Cohn and his successors, and ending with a vivid portrait of today's corporate Hollywood. The book offers unique perspectives on the careers of Rita Hayworth and Judy Holliday, a discussion of Columbia's unique brands of screwball comedy and film noir, and analyses of such classics as The Awful Truth, Born Yesterday, and From Here to Eternity. Following the author's highly readable studio chronicle are fourteen original essays by leading film scholars that follow Columbia's emergence from Poverty Row status to world class, and the stars, films, genres, writers, producers, and directors responsible for its transformation. A new essay on Quentin Tarantino's Once Upon a Time...in Hollywood rounds out the collection and brings this seminal studio history into the 21st century. Amply illustrated with film stills and photos of stars and studio heads, Columbia Pictures is the first book to integrate history with criticism of a single studio, and is ideal for film lovers and scholars alike.

Major Motion Picture Adaptation Coming Soon The internationally acclaimed actress Patricia Neal (1926-2010) was a star on stage, film, and television for more than sixty years. On Broadway she appeared in such lauded productions as Lillian Hellman's Another Part of the Forest, winning the first Tony award. In Hollywood she starred opposite the likes of John Wayne, Paul Newman, John Garfield, and Gary Cooper in some thirty films. She is perhaps best known for her portrayal of Alma Brown in Hud, which earned her the 1963 Academy Award for Best Actress. But there was much more to Neal's life. She was born in Packard, Kentucky, though she spent most of her childhood in Knoxville, Tennessee. For a time, Neal became romantically involved with Gary Cooper, her married costar in The Fountainhead. In 1953, Neal wed famed children's author Roald Dahl, a match that would bring her five children and thirty years of dramatic ups and downs. At the pinnacle of her screen career, Neal suffered a series of strokes which left her in a coma for twenty-one days, and Variety even ran a headline erroneously stating that she had died. After a difficult recovery, Neal returned to film acting, earning a second Academy Award nomination for The Subject Was Roses (1968). She appeared in several television movie roles in the 1970s and 1980s and won a Golden Globe for Best Actress in a Dramatic TV Movie in 1971 for The Homecoming. Adapted as a major motion picture (filmed as An Unquiet Life) starring Hugh Bonneville, Keeley Hawes, and Sam Heughan, Patricia Neal: An Unquiet Life is the first critical biography detailing the actress's impressive film career and remarkable personal life. Author Stephen Michael Shearer conducted numerous interviews with Neal, her professional colleagues, and her intimate friends and was given access to the actress's personal papers. The result is an honest and comprehensive portrait of an accomplished woman who lived her life with determination and bravado.
